Dixie Demos Argue For Toned-Down Civil Rights Plank

FIRM STAND IS FAVORED BY MEANY

Los Angeles (AP) — A Southern governor pleaded Friday for a Democratic platform declaration on civil rights acceptable to the South so Dixie won't feel it has to segregate itself from the party.

South Carolina Gov. Ernest F. Hollings told the convention Resolutions Committee, "I wouldn't like to be segregated from the Democratic Party."

Hollings, arguing quietly for a civil rights plank couched in general terms, added: "We don't want to bolt the party. We want to get you folks to join us."

A majority of the resolutions group appeared inclined toward drafting a strong plank endorsing equal rights in education, employment, and voting with enforcement backed by federal powers.

Support for Negro sit-in demonstrations also is being considered as a recommendation to convention delegates.

Questioning Checked

Backers of a strong civil rights stand were ready to hop on Hollings with questions as he ended his remarks, but Rep. Chester Bowles of Connecticut, committee chairman, cut off any questioning because of what he said was a time shortage.

The next witness, President George Meany of the AFL-CIO, touched on the racial issue again, however, with an appeal for legislation to guarantee equal treatment for all citizens.

"I happen to believe that civil rights in this country—the fulfillment of America's promise to every citizen—is the No. 1 issue of our time," Meany said.

Rehearing Denied In Carter Case

Two motions for rehearing in the damage suit filed by Mrs. Nettie Carter on behalf of her husband, Troy Carter, were overruled Friday by the Supreme Court.

The requests for rehearing had been filed by the Burlington Railroad, and by Roy Vermaas and Earl Vermaas, all defendants in the $750,000 damage suit filed by Mrs. Carter.

In May the Supreme Court reversed the Lancaster District Court decision which found in favor of the defendants and ordered a new trial.

The District Court was reversed on the basis of instruction given to the jury, some of which the Supreme Court found prejudicial.

Carter was rendered incapacitated in the North 27th car-train accident which occurred in December, 1955.

Oats Storage, Loan Rates Told

The loan and purchase agreement rate for farm storage of U.S. No. 3 oats or better in 1960 were announced by the Nebraska Agriculture Stabilization Committee.

The loans and purchase agreements end Jan. 31, 1961. The maturity date is "on demand," but in no case later than April 30, 1961.

No terminal rate on oats was offered. If stored in warehouses at terminals, subterminals or country points, the loan or purchase agreement rate will be the county rate for the county in which the oats were produced, the state ASC office said.

The rates varied from a low of 45 cents a bushel in Keya Paha, Boyd and Knox Counties in northeast Nebraska to 51 in Dundley and Hitchcock Counties in the southwest corner of the state.

Chances Remote For Wheat Law

Washington (AP) — Chances are remote that Congress will accept the suggestion by President Eisenhower and Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson that it pass new wheat legislation when it reconvenes in August.

Eisenhower told his news conference he thought it would be a good thing for the wheat farmer if the House would pass the bill previously voted by the Senate. Benson seconded this at his own news conference.

The Senate bill, passed 44-36, would retain the present level of 75% of parity price supports for 3 more years while cutting acreage 20%.

Polish Wheat Team Scans State Fields

By Glenn Kreuscher
Farm Editor

A 4-man Polish wheat delegation, the first group from behind the Iron Curtain to visit Nebraska, visited wheat fields near Lincoln Friday.

"No book tells you the things that you see and acquire in visiting agriculture in another country," Wacław Piatkowski, head of Grain Division for the Polish Trade Mission, commented.

The common use of large equipment by farm owners drew comment from the visitors who tell of just getting mechanization on their larger co-operative farms where the acreage is between 400 and 1,000 acres.

The delegation explained that Polish land description goes by hectares which equal 2.471 U.S. acres. They estimate Poland has 15 million hectares of land under cultivation with nearly 3,200,000 farmers and they are still using 2,800,000 horses.

Seeing the combines going through the field without any apparent regard for the straw brought the question from the delegation of, "Do you waste all that straw?"

Their first check of a baler drew many questions from the delegation on, how much work it could do, the cost and how the bales were handled.

The most popular bread in Poland was termed "rye bread" by the delegation with the dessert in the form of "Babka" a cake with raisins and made with wheat flour and yeast.

The U.S. bread seemed too soft to the visitors, but our crackers drew favorable comment.

The quality control in U.S. flour mills was termed "most impressive" by the Poland delegation.

The delegation is touring the state as guests of the Nebraska Wheat Commission with Bob Florell, chief of the Nebraska Wheat Commission and C. H. "Mannie" Kreader, executive secretary of the Nebraska Wheat Growers Assn. serving as tour directors.

Improvements Asked On State Highway 21

Representatives of Lexington and Callaway have notified the State Department of Roads that they would like to have improvements on Nebraska 21 between Lexington and Oconto included in the 1961-63 program.

The delegations discussed the problem with John Hosack, acting state engineer, who told them that other highways in the area also need improvements, and that the comparative needs will be known after current sufficiency studies are completed.

NOTHING SERIOUS

Nine-year-old Neda S. Kalt-hoff suffered bumps and bruises in a two-car collision late Friday at 56th and Greenwood, police said. An official at Bryan Memorial Hospital said the Arapahoe girl was treated and released.

Rioting Is Resumed Fatal Fighting In Sicilian Cities

Rome (AP) — Bloody political rioting swept two Sicilian cities Friday and torpedoed a bid by the president of the Senate to bring a truce to strife-shaken Italy.

Three demonstrators were killed and 150 rioters and police were injured.

Gunfire and tear gas made battlefields of the palm-fringed streets of Palermo and Catania.

The fighting in Catania went on until almost midnight. Police and rioters fought a gun battle at police headquarters when Communist-led demonstrators tried to assault the building. At another point police had to fight off demonstrators trying to break into gunsmith shops and other places selling arms.

Police said rioters used guns both at Palermo and Catania.

No Compromise

An appeal for a 15-day truce by the president of the Italian State failed. The government rejected any compromise with the rioters and warned it would "obey its duty of keeping the public square from becoming a substitute for Parliament."

The widespread wave of violence that began June 30 now has taken 10 lives and caused injuries to almost 1,000 persons.

Friday's violence centered in Sicily.

In Catania, at the foot of volcanic Mt. Etna, a 15-year-old boy was killed in fighting between police and hundreds of Communists.

The demonstrators built barricades of tables and chairs taken from bars and hurled stones and bottles filled with gasoline at police. Traffic signals were torn down, cars were overturned and shops were smashed.

'Oklahoma' Proves Hit With Nebraskans Here

By Graham W. Howe

"I think we've got a good one on our hands."

This between-acts comment by a member of Lincoln's own "Oklahoma" company proved a masterpiece of understatement at Friday's opening-night performance in Pine-wood Bowl.

Long before the final curtain it was evident that the now-renowned Rodgers and Hammerstein musical play was a hit in Lincoln just as it had been when it opened before an unsuspecting New York audience in 1943.

Credit To Bennett

Chief credit for the outstanding performance goes to the director (Professor Oscar (Pop) Bennett of Nebraska Wesleyan University).

It was the 13th of the annual Pinewood summer operas, all of which have been under his skillful direction. And after the overture, there are 13 different musical numbers in the "Oklahoma" score.

Cooperation to beat the 13 jinx came even from the weatherman. An estimated 2,200 persons defied overcast skies to attend and refused to leave when a few drops of moisture descended. This threat soon passed.

A slight breeze caused unexpected movement of a bit of scenery, and in spite of air base and airport cooperation, a few planes found it necessary to pass near enough to drown out some lines.

But these were minor matters in an evening of top-notch entertainment. Almost without exception, the amateur cast and production staff performed in a manner worthy of a professional company.

Report Success

Repeating her last year's success as leading lady in "The King and I," was Lois Marek Garrett, who brought to the part of Laurey a winsome personality, appropriately clear and musical singing and a fine dramatic sense. As Curly, Air Force Lt. Jerome C. Goodrich displayed a fine tenor voice capable of ringing virile tones and tender mezzo voce.

Difficult secondary and character parts were well handled by Carol Jean Greer as Ado Annie, Bob McMeen as Jud, George Mechling as Will, Gail Galloway as Aunt Eller and Robert Stevenson as Ali Hakim. Good in other roles were Herbie Nore as Gertie, John Gilliland as Slim, Dick Nenninger as Cord Elam, veteran Clair Rickel as Andrew Carns, Steven Roberts as Ike Skidmore, and in minor parts, Judy Lawrence, Elijah Powell, Sigrid Henderson, Tom Jenkins and Charles Rickel.

Worth special note were the imaginative ballet numbers directed by Flavia Waters Champe. Gary Davis and Rick Marsh were tap dancers in the "Kansas City" novelty number. Kay Christiansen appeared as "Pigtails" in two numbers and the dream sequence found Karen Costin dancing as Laurey Friday night. Taking that part on successive evenings will be Judy Howard ("Miss Lincoln") and Helen Anderson.

Entering into the folk spirit of the American light opera were the 70 well-trained chorus members. The 40-piece orchestra played the still fresh and charming music with uncommon sensitivity and enthusiasm.

Dorsey Help

The simple but effective sets were designed by Glen Dorsey and LeRoy Schoonover. The authentic period costumes were the work of Trudy Leuenberger. Stage managers were Don Williams and Don Gerhard.

The annual Pinewood opera productions are sponsored by the Civic Singfest Committee, of which Norma Carpenter is president. Opera chairmen are Fern Casford and Arnett Folsom. Harry Garrett was assistant to the director.

Lincoln area residents have three more opportunities to see "Oklahoma" and hear its many hit numbers, including "Oh What a Beautiful Mornin'," "Surrey with the Fringe on Top," "People Will Say We're in Love" and the title song. The Pinewood performances continue at 8:00 p.m. nightly through Monday.

Loken Is Bound Over On Charge Of Kidnapping

North Platte (AP)—Jerard Loken, 25, was bound over to District Court on a charge of kidnapping.

Mrs. Beverly J. Albright, 23, Ogallala, Neb., testified Loken forced her at knife-point to drive from near North Platte to Watertown, S.D., last June 23.

She said she escaped there and alerted police.

Loken, a Navy seaman who gives him home address as Stratford, S.D., pleaded innocent at Thursday's preliminary hearing before County Judge Oscar Sandahl.

Bond was set at $2,400.

Mrs. Albright said that when they stopped for gas Loken warned her: "Don't double cross me because I wouldn't hesitate to cut your throat."

She testified that he told her he was going to Watertown to kill someone and wanted her to be a witness.

Rolling Gardens

Tokyo (AP) — The Tokyo Transport Department will give its 800 streetcars and buses a garden atmosphere for two weeks beginning Monday. They will be scented with lilac and decorated with artificial flowers.

Humid Weather Due In Plains

Generally fair weather is forecast Saturday for the nation east of the Mississippi Valley, except for some widely scattered thundershowers in the southeast and along the Gulf coast. Scattered showers and isolated thundershowers are expected from the Rockies to the Great Plains. Warm and humid weather is expected in the Mississippi Valley and central Plains. It will be cooler in the northern Plains and northern Rockies. (AP Wirephoto Map)

U.S.A. Girl In Universe Finale Today

Miami Beach, Fla. (AP)—Fifteen gorgeous girls representing 5 continents Friday night advanced to the semi-finals of the 1960 Miss Universe beauty pageant.

Linda Bement, 18-year-old Salt Lake City, Utah, entrant was among them.

The group included 6 entries with jet-black hair, 4 blondes and 5 brown-haired girls.

Miss Universe of 1960 will be named Saturday night to succeed Akiko Kojima of Japan, who won the award at Long Beach, California last year.

Southern Chile Is Jolted Again

Santiago, Chile (AP)—A series of strong earth tremors again shook Valdivia in southern Chile, devastated by earthquakes in May and now facing the threat of a giant flood.

Evacuation of the 40,000 remaining in the city, which normally has a population of 100,000, continued.

Army engineers expressed belief that the waters of Lake Rinihue in the Andes would burst through earthquake-caused barriers in another 4 days and send millions of tons of water down on Valdivia. Twelve villages along the San Pedro River between the lake and Valdivia have been cleared of inhabitants.

Dr. Walter Modell of Cornell University, New York, said in a report approved by the AMA that not one of the millions of drugs sold each year can reduce obesity or depress appetite.

Modell said some drugs increase chemical activity, presumably to burn up food faster, but they also stimulate the appetite.

'See No Evil,' Aimless Driver Informs Trooper

Valparaiso, Ind. (AP) — "Something the matter with your eyes, buddy," the sheriff's deputy asked the motorist with heavy sarcasm.

"Yes," the driver replied. "They're plastic."

Deputy Edward J. Blakely said he "almost fell over" when he got that reply after stopping a weaving car northwest of Valparaiso.

The driver had been blind since birth. Mary Ann Beavers, 20, Gary, Ind., said she had allowed her 25-year-old brother to drive at his repeated pleading to "just see how it feels."

There were 4 other persons in the car, and one of them tried to help the blind man steer.

Miss Beavers was charged with allowing an unlicensed driver to operate her car. No charge was filed against the blind brother, whose name was not obtained.

Give Up, Girls

Chicago (UPI) — The American Medical Association (AMA) says there are no drugs now available that can take off fat.

Dr. Walter Modell of Cornell University, New York, said in a report approved by the AMA that not one of the millions of drugs sold each year can reduce obesity or depress appetite.

Modell said some drugs increase chemical activity, presumably to burn up food faster, but they also stimulate the appetite.

$12.4 Million In Capital Improvements Eyed

By Virgil Falloon
Capital improvements totaling $3,845,750 for the 1960-61 budget years have been recommended to the City Council by the Capital Improvements Advisory Committee.

REHEARING DENIED WILSON

Execution Postponed
The Nebraska Supreme Court Friday overruled a motion for a rehearing for Luther Wesley Wilson of Omaha who has been sentenced to death in the electric chair for the Feb. 28, 1958 murder of Raymond Rasmussen in Omaha.

The Court, however, stayed the issuance of mandate until October 8 to permit an appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court.

This action automatically postpones Wilson's scheduled execution date of September 23.

This is the second postponement of an execution date which had first been set for January 12, but was automatically stayed pending Wilson's appeal to the State Supreme Court.

Omaha Clerk
Rasmussen was a clerk in an Omaha liquor store. During the trial, the prosecution contended that Wilson killed Rasmussen while attempting to rob the store.

Wilson's attorneys asked for the rehearing June 15.

Hearts Mended For 3 Brothers, Ex-Polk Students

Los Angeles, Calif. — Adding a rare chapter to American medical history are 3 brothers, until a year ago farm boys in the Polk, Neb., community.

The youths all suffered from the same congenital heart defect until it was corrected by a University of Southern California surgical team.

The boys are Jerome, 18; Edward, 13; and Herold Jr., 8, sons of Jerold Ruzickas of Los Angeles.

Jerome is a graduate of Polk High School, where he was a first string football and basketball player in his senior year.

Routine examinations earlier this year revealed that all 3 suffered from a narrowing of the aorta, the large artery of the heart.

Doctor said there was a possibility all 3 would die before the age of 30 if the narrowed section of the aorta were not removed. USC surgeons termed the incidence of the defect in the same family as extremely rare.

All 3 boys were operated on the same day.

Rehearing For Fisher Overruled

... By High Court

The Nebraska Supreme Court Friday overruled a motion for re-hearing requested by Charles A. Fisher, Chadron attorney, resulting from the Court's order May 27 suspending Fisher from practice of law for one year.

Fisher was charged in a disciplinary action by the Nebraska Bar Association with unprofessional conduct in forcing a wooden dowel through a bullet hole in a belt introduced as evidence in the 1954 murder trial of Loyd Grandsinger.

In its decision ordering Fisher's suspension for one year, the Court stated that it should become effective in 30 days.

The Court further stated that if after one year Fisher satisfies the Court he has complied and will not engage in practices offensive to the legal profession, he will be reinstated.

Fisher has practiced law for 27 years.

gram are projects totalling $8,595,800 as reported by various city departments to the charter-created advisory committee.

Mayor Pat Boyles as chairman advised that the committee recommended the first year of the 6-year program be included in the 1960-61 annual budget.

The city charter now requires departments to program for the next 5 years as well as the coming fiscal year.

$300,000
It is estimated that some $300,000 worth of capital improvements recommended would come from general taxation while the remainder would involve other revenue sources and bond funds.

For street and highway improvements, the committee approved $1.7 million for 1960-61 out of the $6.6 million projected for the next 6 years.

This breaks down as a $1.2 million "start" on the East O expressway estimated at $2.7 million with completion in 1963-64; $200,000 for arterial resurfacing and $300,000 for non-federal improvements of arterial streets.

Parks
In line with a recommendation by the park advisory board for a one-mill levy for park improvements, the department has outlined a $152,000 program for 1960-61.

Major items are Northeast Park (formerly Bethany Playground), $2,500; Belmont Park, $16,000; Woods Park, $45,000; Antelope Park (including Children's Zoo), $29,000; and Pioneer Park, $11,000.

The 1960-61 capital improvements recommended by the committee generally follow the requests of the various department. Only major change was a one-year postponement in the razing of the old Bryan School building at 18th and A and construction of a one-story shop building, estimated at $170,000.

Storm Sewers
Of the $416,000 programmed for storm sewer construction during 1960-61, all except $150,000 had been previously programmed for 1959-60 construction.

Included were the three Dead Man's Run bridges totalling $105,000, of which only the 56th and Holdrege span has been started.

New storm projects added to the list were Randolph at 27th, $30,000; 63rd and Seward to 59th and Platte, $80,000 and 29th from Leighton to Rock Island tracks, $40,000.

Havelock
For the sanitary sewer trunk system, the Havelock system is programmed at $355,000 for 1960-61 with another $45,000 in miscellaneous projects.

Other departmental requests included streets, $7,500, and water supply and distribution, $850,000, including two new water reservoirs.

Also proposed is $20,000 toward a $600,000 addition to the main city library at 14th and N.

The Council is expected to discuss the proposed 1960-61 capital program in detail with the various departmental officials during the approaching budget sessions.

Russ Space Ship Has Quit Sending Signals

Moscow (AP) — The signal apparatus of the Soviet space ship, launched on May 15 into orbit around the earth with a capsule containing a dummy astronaut, has stopped functioning because it has run out of electric power, Tass said.

The news agency said the space ship completed 869 circuits of the earth Friday and is gradually coming closer to the earth.

Farm Price Index Drops 6 Points

Only Corn, Hog Figures Up; Cattle, Eggs, Wheat Decline

The Nebraska all-farm commodity index for June at 255 points was 6 below May and 4 below the same month last year, the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics reported Friday.

Lower prices for cattle, calves, eggs and wheat were only partially offset by higher corn and hog prices, the division said. The all-live-stock index of 281 was down 7 points from mid-May and 6 points from June, 1959.

The all-crops index at 185 was two off from last month and one lower than a year ago.

Nebraska farmers received an average of $22.70 per cwt. for beef cattle, $1.30 less than in May and $2.60 below last year. Hogs at $15.80 per cwt. were up 40 cents from May and $1.50 higher than last year.

Sheep prices dropped 10 cents per cwt. from a month ago to average $5.40. However, lambs at $21.50 per cwt. were 80 cents higher.

Butterfat averaged 59 cents per pound, one cent lower than in May.

Chickens including broilers were up a half cent a pound to 9.9 cents. Eggs averaged 24.6 cents a dozen, 3.6 cents below mid-May but 5.4 cents above last year.

Wheat averaged $1.69 per bushel in June, 4 cents below May but 6 cents above last year.

Corn was up 3 cents to $1.01 which was down 7 cents from last year.

Oats at 63 cents were 4 cents below a month ago. Barley and rye both dropped 1 cent to 72 and 87 cents, respectively.

The index of prices received by U.S. farmers dropped 2% (5 points) to 236% of its 1910-14 average. The decline was rather general.

The index of prices paid for commodities, interest, taxes and farm wage rates declined nearly 1% during June to 299. This was the largest decline in any single month since December, 1955. However, it was still a high for the month of June—about a third of one percentage point over last year.

Slaughter Total Up

The commercial livestock slaughter in Nebraska during May totaled 282,276,000 pounds live weight, 10% over the same month last year and 14% over the previous month, the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics reported Friday.

The accumulated slaughter for the first 5 months of 1960 stood at 1,373,662,000 pounds, 3% over the same period a year ago.

The May cattle slaughter was 177,000 head, 18,000 more than the same month last year and 30,000 more than the previous month.

Calves slaughtered in May totaled 700 head, about 900 fewer than a year ago and 200 fewer than the previous month.

Hogs slaughtered totaled 350,000 head, up 14% from the same month a year ago but only 2,000 head over the previous month.

Lloyd Might Be Treasury Chief In Great Britain

London (AP) — Prime Minister Macmillan was reported planning to replace Selwyn Lloyd as British foreign secretary — and switch him to the prized post of treasury chief.

The end of Lloyd's eventful 5-year term in charge of the foreign office is expected to highlight a reshuffle of Macmillan's cabinet later this month. Thus far the name of Macmillan's new choice as foreign secretary has not leaked out. Several contenders have been suggested.

Final Approval Due On Joint Church Project

Cleveland (AP) — A constitution and by-laws, blueprinting structural details of the house which two large Protestant denominations decided 3 years ago to share, were ready Friday for final approval of congregations and synods of the United Church of Christ.

Some 500 delegates to the United Church's General Synod adjourned a 3-day meeting after adopting unanimously 17 pages of by-laws with only a few minor changes.

Unanimous approval was given to the constitution, which now requires ratification by two-thirds of 5,506 Congregational Christian Churches and two-thirds of the 33 Evangelical and Reformed Church Synods. The voting is to be completed by next June 1, and favorable action would mean that the general synod which meets in Philadelphia next summer would declare the constitution and by-laws in effect.

Dr. Fred Hoskins of New York, minister of the Congregational Christian General Council and a co-president of the United Church, said churches will be asked to call special ratification meetings.

Commission May Limit Oil Output At 3rd Field

Sidney (AP) — Limitation of production in a 3rd western Nebraska oil field is under scrutiny by the Nebraska Oil and Gas Conservation Commission.

Commission director H. N. Dusty Rhodes said operators in the Russell Field about 10 miles northwest of Bushnell in Kimball County, have been asked to show cause at a hearing July 19 why production in this field should not be limited.

Earlier the commission had asked operators in the Enbrook Field in Kimball County to recommend a quantity of oil to be pumped from each well daily. A temporary order limiting production to 200 barrels per day will expire July 23.

No recommendation has yet been received from the Enbrook Field operators and if none is received, presumably the commission will set its own limitation.

In the Rohlfling Field in Cheyenne County, the commission last month ruled that no gas could be flared (burned off) or vented from a gas well in the field and only 100,000 cubic feet of gas per day could be flared or vented per day from an oil well.

The commission also is seeking a 40-acre spacing for wells as a general procedure for future wells.

The commission feels that too rapid pumping of wells is wasteful and may result in inability to obtain all the supplies, that could be pumped with less rapid methods.

July 19 is the date of the next regular monthly meeting.

Let's Try Common Sense

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

When the Federal Communications Commission ordered equal time on the Jack Paar TV show for Chicago's Lar ("America First") Daly, it just about hit the peak of stupidity. If the FCC is going to attempt to keep political equality within the United States insofar as the airways are concerned, it is going to have to use better sense than this. It is going to have to temper its strict legal pronouncements with a little plain good judgment.

It is ridiculous to have self-styled candidates such as Daly who obviously have no chance whatsoever to be nominated by any party before the nation on any forced basis. For whatever television is or is not, it will be worse with the enforcement of such a code as the one which called for the appearance of Daly on Paar's show. The comedian called the time given Daly an abuse of the decent principle of equal time. And that is exactly what it was. There is a place and a reason for the equal time idea but when carried to extremes it simply defeats the purpose of its existence. The theory is that no realm of the public domain such as the airways shall be secluded for the advantage of one and the disadvantage of another.

It is to insure the free exercise of an open political system wherein the public has the opportunity to see and judge for itself major aspirants for public office. There is certainly nothing wrong with this but the folly comes in when you eliminate all standards of measuring those who seek the protection of this theory.

A key part of this theory is its application in the case of the rights of recognized candidates for office. Of all the many ways in which a candidate can be recognized, Mr. Daly qualifies under none of them. If he meets the FCC legal qualifications for a candidate on the Democratic ticket, then these qualifications are in drastic need of revision.

A little of the same issue or idea involved in the Daly episode is found in a report by a special committee of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. The committee calls for the dissemination of more information to the public by scientists. At the same time, the group calls for the scientists to furnish only facts, not programs of action based on these facts. It, in fact, condemns some scientists for their partisan political activities.

It is not an easy question to handle which has been raised by the association. But what the association seems to be doing is trying to deny the scientist a part of his just role as a citizen of the United States. Certainly, scientists have an obligation to do whatever they can to keep the American people informed on the technical aspects of disarmament, population growth, weapon development, etc. But it is difficult to understand why they should be denied the chance to actively seek specific application of this technology.

The association directed criticism at atomic scientists who banded together to exert influence upon the government in the adoption of a specific course of action dealing with the subject of atomic energy. The criticism is evidently aimed at Linus Pauling and other scientists who have signed a petition against the testing of nuclear weapons.

The danger in the approach advocated by the association lies in its effort to categorize various professions and segments of the population into limited fields of operation. This is just the opposite of the kind of thing on which a free political system thrives. If a scientist cannot advocate and work for application by government of his knowledge and understanding, how can a businessman be permitted to do this or a farmer or a labor union?

By virtue of his comparative monopoly of certain information, the scientist should expect no more power and success within government than any other segment of the population but to give him less is to punish him for a certain superiority and special achievement. There are very few of us who know as much about the ins and outs of politics as the man in office but this should not preclude us from an active interest in the subject matter with which they deal. Recognition of Red China, for instance, is a highly involved and complicated subject but does that make it one on which the American people are forbidden to express an opinion?

While an over-simplification of things, the soft or tough approach to Communist Russia is a delicate and vital subject but the road we take is as much a decision of the American people as it is the office holders in Washington. This system works in a complicated manner and often in an indirect fashion but it has served us well for nearly 200 years.

We Have A Crisis

A religious sect in Arizona, not very numerous, only about 100, confidently awaits nuclear bombing today. The members have laid in a huge supply of provisions, ceased all worldly work and have retired indoors to await the big moment.

True to the curious but dependable pattern of human behaviour, the un-anointed neighbors are excited about it, and more inclined to be belligerent than patient. A deputy sheriff's posse finally staged a break through and entered one of the sect's bomb proofs and found only peace and order inside.

The rest of us shall have to wait out the hours of Saturday to decide whether to yield an indulgent smile to this fevered sect, or whether to go out and try to catch a rabbit on the smoldering ruins of our cities so that our lives can go on. In the end it will not make much difference for if the sect is right the future after Saturday would be too bleak to contemplate. And if the sect is wrong, which is more than possible, its several day stay between the worlds will not be a total loss. It will have had the satisfaction of stimulating the economy to the extent of heavy purchase of food and also the satisfaction of knowing it will not have to go to the grocery store now for quite a long time. In short it is as nice a crisis as one could imagine.

The Need In A Nutshell

Either the Democratic party this coming week at Los Angeles or shortly later the Republican party at Chicago will name the man who will be elected to head the nation for four years come next November. For that reason the political news at this juncture is of formidable importance.

But it was especially appropriate that Walter Lippman was presented to the American people for a quiet hour of reasoned discussion on the state of the nation and the demands which are being laid upon the presidency. One cannot guarantee all the conclusions of Mr. Lippman or any other learned man, for no human ever existed having infallible knowledge of the future. But to those, like editors, whose function it is to be informed of and articulate upon the public subjects Mr. Lippman's comments reflected deep information and great grasp.

Lippman refrained from personalities, but he described the presidential need. The office calls for a man who can grasp the essence, can make decisions and can be articulate. Thus he can rationalize and clarify national purpose. These are things that have been lacking, he said, so correctly. In short, America needs constructive leadership.

Placing the responsibility on the president is correct. Selecting a president who can supply the needs greatly outranks party considerations. And it is significant that Mr. Lippman did not chide the American people. There is no reason to do so. When one looks back, the American people have performed tremendously. More than 14 million accepted the pain of combat without complaint and backed by an extraordinarily productive civilian effort fought victorious the biggest war in our history. Afterward they accepted international responsibilities, accepted the United Nations, the Marshall Plan and national defense. They are shouldering the heavy taxes for all this willingly enough. Meantime, they have proliferated the American economy. American people are not servile to their leaders, but they demand good and competent leadership. Mr. Lippman put the burden where it belongs.

Editorial Of The Day

The Republic Of Cyprus

From The New York Times

The last obstacles to the independence of Cyprus have now been surmounted. By the middle of August a new nation, the Republic of Cyprus will join the world community.

It is one of the oldest names in the civilized world, and, being on the Mediterranean sea routes, it has known innumerable conquerors. The list includes Egyptians, Persians, Macedonians, Romans, Byzantines, Franks, Turks and—last of the lot—Britons. Curiously enough, although there were Greek colonies on Cyprus in the earliest classical times, and although it never lost its Greek character and culture, Cyprus never belonged to Greece. Today the Greek Cypriotes comprise four-fifths of the population. The Turkish Cypriotes who make up the rest come down from the period of 1571 to 1878, when Cyprus was under Turkish sovereignty.

The two communities joined the British, Greeks and Turks in an agreement signed on Feb. 11, 1959, in Zurich. This agreement provided for Cypriot independence on Feb. 19 of this year, but the British and Cypriotes, led by Archbishop Makarios, who was elected President last December, could not agree on the size and the administration of the two military bases the British will retain. An accord on this question has at last been reached.

Relief and satisfaction will be universal, at least in the Western world. There had been five years of sanguinary strife before the Zurich agreement. A failure to come to terms and a reversion to the struggle would have been terrible.

Archbishop Makarios said on Monday that Cyprus will pursue an "independent" policy. With two British military bases on the island and the Greek and Turkish connections, this will be difficult, especially as the island will badly need economic aid for some years. Even in relation to the Middle East, Cyprus will apparently be hamstrung by an inability to recognize Israel along with the Arab states. Independence is a relative thing in the modern world, and yet, after several thousand years, it is true enough to say that Cyprus is on the verge of becoming a free country.

Johnson Bids For Minnesota

LOS ANGELES — Backstage huddling, where the TV cameras can't get in, is taking place all over the lot both in Los Angeles and in Washington. And some of it may decide who is to be the next president of the United States.

One of the most important took place the other evening between Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, one-time candidate, and Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, full-time candidate. With them were Earle Clements, former senator from Kentucky and chief mastermind of the Johnson campaign, and Bobby Baker, Johnson's right-hand assistant.

They wanted Minnesota's 31 key votes to go for Johnson, not Kennedy; and they knew that as a bribe to get those votes, Sen. Humphrey had been approached by Sen. Kennedy, the man who beat him in West Virginia, to be Kennedy's vice-presidential running mate.

"I'm not going to run," Humphrey said with vigor. "I'm fed up with primaries. I've got a big campaign debt to pay off, and I've got to stick to my knitting as senator. Furthermore, Muriel is so fed up with all this that she'd divorce me if I ran for vice president."

Humphrey, who has more energy and more initiative than almost anyone else in the Senate, then gave some suggestions to Lyndon Johnson.

"The man to run for vice president on your ticket is Gene McCarthy," he said, referring to his colleague, the Democratic senator from Minnesota, a Catholic. "He's the guy for you. But you've got to promote him. Tell some newspapermen about it. You've got to really publicize this."

"And you've got to get Stu Symington in here," continued Humphrey, pointing to a chair. "Sit him down and talk to him. Get him out of the race. You're the only one who can beat Kennedy."

Humphrey also told how the governor of Minnesota, Orville Freeman, had come to him to report that the Kennedy forces had been talking to him about running for vice president on the Kennedy ticket in another attempt to corral the 31 key votes of the Minnesota delegation.

"You won't do that, Orville," Humphrey said he told the governor. "If you do I'll come out against you."

Humphrey explained that Freeman was running for unprecedented fourth term for governor, might have a tough battle, and that running for vice president might be an alternative. Humphrey said he needed the governor's support in his own re-election campaign. They are old friends and the governor pretty much dominated the state democratic organization. Despite this, he said, he would oppose Freeman's running for vice president in any Kennedy bid to win the Minnesota delegation.

Pressure Mounts At Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES — These are the dangerous hours for the rival Democratic presidential candidates when the adrenal glands are stimulated by crowds, bands, clashes of temperament and the sheer difficulty of keeping reasonably well-fed, well-clothed and well-housed.

Most of the delegates have not even arrived, but the Biltmore Hotel headquarters is packed body to body. Most of the energy expended is aimless; the candidate pattern is established and will alter little, if at all, before the caucuses of key delegations — California, Illinois and Pennsylvania.

Yet at this point the incautious phrase, too much pressure or even too little, or a crowd psychology could effect the outcome. The forces of the candidates are, therefore, in motion.

Robert Kennedy is putting all the heat he can on delegates known to be leaning or friendly. He has been accused in the past of using too heavy a hand in such efforts. Certainly he is young and enthusiastic and the Kennedy family commitment to the senator's candidacy is total. No delegate has complained publicly, however.

Adlai Stevenson's supporters have wrung their last drop of advantage from National Chairman Paul Butler's grudging acceptance of the Stevenson candidacy. They first trumpeted the story of "Butler's Pantry," two tiny, remote rooms near a kitchen allotted to them by the chairman. Now they are suggesting that it is not yet time to let "young Bobby Kennedy push Stevenson out of the picture."

Sen. Stuart Symington's supporters implore their friends to hang on. Sen. Lyndon Johnson's headquarters is swelling in numbers and decibels by the minute.

The essential facts are unchanged. Kennedy has pulled far in front with his well-planned, amply-financed efforts of the past four years. He goes before the convention with a broader base than anyone had suspected he could. The party as a whole is not wild about him, but it is not wild about the alternatives, either.

Doubt remains that he can surmount the religious issue. Many liberals still hesitate; the old pros, many of whom are fellow-Catholics, feel it will hurt them in their own states to have Kennedy at the head of the ticket. But the basic dilemma for the doubters is the lack of appeal of the other candidates.

Listing the committed delegates is called here "playing the numbers game." It can be done in many ways. The Stevenson managers, for example, have figures showing Kennedy has picked up only four new votes since the Oregon primary. They privately feel he has about 640 of the necessary 761, and they profess to feel the total will start to melt on a second ballot.

A THOUGHT FOR THE SABBATH

Stories Of Famous Hymns

The Heavens Declare Thy Glory, Lord

The heavens declare Thy glory, Lord; In every star Thy wisdom shines; But when our eyes behold Thy Word, We read Thy Name in fairer lines.

The rolling sun, the changing light, And nights and days, Thy power confess; But the blest Volume Thou hast writ Reveals Thy justice and Thy grace.

Sun, moon, and stars convey Thy praise Round the whole earth, and never stand; So when Thy truth began its race, It touched and glanced on every land.

Nor shall Thy spreading gospel rest Till through the world Thy truth has run; Till Christ has all the nations blest That see the light, or feel the sun.

By HORACE B. POWELL

The words of this Bible-inspired hymn were written in 1719 by the great English churchman and hymnist, Dr. Isaac Watts. They are based on the beautiful Nineteenth Psalm.

Dr. Watts was the author of 454 psalm versions and hymns. This one is notable for its interpretation of the universe as a revelation of the wisdom of God and a promise of the complete sovereignty of His truth and power.

Lowell Mason, who was born at Medfield, Massachusetts in 1792, arranged the music, an old German melody. At the age of 16, Mr. Mason had charge of the church choir in Medfield. In 1812, he settled at Savannah, Georgia, working as a bank clerk but continuing his interest in church music as choir-master of a Presbyterian church. Here he also began to write hymn tunes. He created many of these in the years that followed including music for the hymns, "My Faith Looks Up To Thee", "We Would See Jesus", "Nearer, My God, To Thee", and "Blest Be The Tie That Binds".

ED KOTERBA

Adlai Fares Badly In 'Butler's Pantry'

LOS ANGELES—Gov. LeRoy Collins, a man on a mission, bounded through the halls of the Biltmore Hotel. As permanent chairman of the Democratic Convention, the Floridian would drop by the hospitality rooms of each candidate for a courtesy call.

His message: there would be no favorites, since this is not a rigged convention. "Where," said the governor to his aide at his heels, "is the Stevenson room?"

The aide and a dozen hangers-on gave the corridor a long stare. Nobody spoke up until one fellow said, "Governor, it's here somewhere, but you can't get there from here."

The reason was that National Chairman Paul Butler—inadvertently or by design—assigned the most inaccessible set of two dinky rooms in the hotel to the Stevenson forces.

It's next to the kitchen. Eventually visitors found it by asking, "Where do I find Butler's pantry?"

The devoted folks who've been mad for Adlai, murmured sadly, "This is the treatment Paul Butler gives to the titular head of the Democratic party!"

The Stevenson suite wouldn't appear so sour if you didn't have to pass the Kennedy hospitality room on the way.

Whereas the button-passing people of Adlai Stevenson peer out from behind a wooden folding screen at the top of a one-way staircase that's hidden behind a black wrought-iron gate, the Kennedy glad-handers reign grandly over the Biltmore's lavish music room.

You can stroll in from two main corridors. Sit down to a cherry-red cafe table and a waiter will serve you—free—a cup of coffee, orange juice or a cola drink. Soft music floats down from the speakers on the gold walls.

Mosey to a lounge in the Kennedy corner and watch television—actually a play-back on tape of the Kennedy crusade of 1960. Meet some of the 25 pretty girls in peppermint dresses or chat with the Kennedy relatives. There's never a shortage of either.

The Kennedy hospitality room is nearly a half-block square. Red and white streamers dip sweepingly under the glistening chandeliers.

As for the other two candidates, neither fared as badly as Adlai. Stu Symington's button crew holds forth in the large Galleria Room. There's a baby grand in the corner and daughter-in-law Sylvia Symington, a petite beauty who somewhat resembles Hedy Lamarr, plays "Sleepy Time Down South" as you step in.

Lyndon Johnson's forces were assigned to the chandelied Renaissance Room, which has a kingly atmosphere, set behind a gold and crimson curtain.

But back at the hidden "Butler's Pantry" the air is that of the underdog. "Why," I asked a Stevenson staffer,

"hadn't you gotten an equal break from this unrigged convention?" The fellow whispered, "They're afraid of us. Adlai is the only real power to stop Kennedy."

And he looked at the light bulbs sticking out of the hall ceiling. "We're not kicking," he said. "After all, there are chandeliers in the White House."

A Big Problem

Lincoln, Neb.

I noticed a picture and story in a recent weekly publication telling that only two members of the graduating class in a small Missouri town intend to stay there. Thirty-two members of that class will seek jobs and homes elsewhere. This, states the publication, is one of the real problems in America—migration from country to city. It states further that it creates a two-fold problem, with population losses draining the lifeblood of the small town, and swelling populations adding to the problems of the crowded metropolitan areas.

This need not be a "national problem." It could be overcome very easily. The answer—hire the single boys and girls so they can stay in the home town.

My home town numbers about 1,300 and we have only about six or seven single girls employed in the entire area. All the positions are held by married women, most of them with husbands who have good jobs. Many of them have small children who are cared for by babysitters. We used to feel sorry for a widow with children who had to earn the living. Now "keeping up with the Joneses" forces women to work. In several instances, pregnant women have worked almost up to the time of delivery, delivered and within a month were back at work. Where is the justice?

Now, after 40 years, it seems as though men might be willing to let women take over entirely. Since they have a 3 1/2 million majority, they might be able to make a better world. So let us call on the women for leaders.

DISGUSTED

Hurrah For The Gals!

Milburn, Neb.

The fortieth anniversary of women's right to vote brings to mind the many talks and arguments that accompanied that decision. It really was a hot subject.

Some declared we would at once have a better world if women had the right to vote; that women would protect the homes, do away with liquor; that we would have no more drunkards, our schools would be better, they would be against all evils, we would improve morally, religiously and in every way. Others argued that it would only make more confusion, more controversy, and that since our troubles were caused by too many ignorant voters, we would have twice as many and it would be worse.

Now, after 40 years, it seems as though men might be willing to let women take over entirely. Since they have a 3 1/2 million majority, they might be able to make a better world. So let us call on the women for leaders.

Journey To School Convinced Ettinger

By Don Walton
Kearney — William Ettinger all but made up his mind to accept the superintendent's post at the Boys Training School 3 weeks before he was officially hired.

The decision took on its affirmative form when the Lincolnite drove from his home to the school west of here for a preliminary look at the facility and its wards.

Ettinger received a 7-minute tour around the grounds.

It was then that he decided to accept the post informally offered him by two of the 3 members of the Board of Control.

Ellandson Fired

Three weeks later, when Supt. Nolan Ellandson refused to resign, he was fired and Ettinger took over.

"My poor reception at Kearney was actually why I took the post," Ettinger recalls.

Basically, however, he accepted the position "because I like to work with boys and I thought I could do some good in unbending some of the bent twigs."

Ettinger thinks that he has already established a good relationship with the 236 boys at the school in the bare month he has been there.

"I Am Interested"

"They know I am interested in them," he pointed out. Most of them now call Ettinger "Mr. Bill," a carry-over from his days at the Merry and Mr. Bill nursery schools in Lincoln.

Emphasis at Kearney will be placed on "working hard and playing hard," the new superintendent noted.

"That means athletics for everyone," he said, a departure from the past when those who didn't wish to participate in intramural sports did not do so.

It also means a new manner in which tension and anger may be released — a punching bag in every cottage.

"Use My Picture"

"If they want to put my picture on it and use it, that's okay," Ettinger pointed out. "Just so they release anger in that way."

While alterations in emphasis and programming are in the works at the training school, Ettinger has made no staff changes since his arrival.

Both the Board of Control and a Legislative Council investigating committee have visited the school since Ettinger took charge.

Boys at Kearney are separated as to age.

Arise Early

They rise from 5:30 to 6 a.m. each day. (Dairy workers roll out at 4:30 a.m.)

Everybody eats at 6:30, then clean their cottages and police the grounds.

Summer school classes and work (laundry, dairy, poultry farm, hogyards, gardens, etc.) occupy the remainder of the morning.

At 11:30, the boys lunch in two shifts.

Intramural activities and work take up the afternoon.

At 5 p.m., it's time to freshen up for 6 p.m. dinner.

Television

Evening hours are consumed watching television and in more athletics. Then, everyone hits the sack at 9 p.m.

The greatest discipline problem: smoking.

Most of the boys are at Kearney for "minor crimes," Ettinger noted.

But, they are often not sent there until a lengthy series of offenses have been committed and a pattern established, he pointed out.

"They're often hardened by the time they get here," Ettinger said.

What would help? "Send them here earlier," he asked.

Work Set At Post Office, Court House

Roof repair, alterations and remodeling contracts have been awarded for work on the U.S. Post Office and Court House in Lincoln by the General Services Administration.

The Sturdevant Sheet Metal and Roofing Co., of Enid, Okla., was awarded a $25,787 contract for post office roof repair. Other contracts went to Kingery Construction Co. of Lincoln, $8,234 for space alteration, and Chessler Co., Inc., of Lincoln, $2,697 for remodeling.

According to postal authorities, changes will include moving the public windows in the east lobby from the west to the east side providing more room for handling and moving of the chief accountant's office at the east into previously-vacated areas on the second floor.

The first floor personnel office will move down the line near the new window area, and the second floor credit union office will be moved to the basement.

Increased mail volume has resulted in crowded working conditions, officials said.

Contracts were also awarded for work on 4 other U.S. Post Office buildings in Nebraska.

They are:

Tecumseh—Combs Engineering Co., Kansas City, Mo., $4,082, driveway extension.

Crawford—A. H. Ferron, Crawford, $8,735.16, basement remodeling.

McCook—Douberly Construction Co., York, $8,639.01, courtroom remodeling.

Crete—Steele Bros., Crete, $730, driveway extension.

70-Year Resident Mrs. Hutton Dies

Mrs. Amanda Hutton, 79, of 2212 Shelton, a 70-year resident of Nebraska, died Friday.

She had lived in Lincoln for 56 years.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Vera Cummings of Hawthorne, Calif.; a sister, Bertha Greenfield of Brighton, Colo.; two grandchildren and 4 great-grandchildren.

Realtors' Licenses Revoked By State

The State Real Estate Commission Friday revoked the licenses of Bruce B. Bohrer and Donovan J. Bruning, both of Omaha.

Complaints were registered Feb. 29 against the two doing business as the Key Realty Co.

The Commission said the pair failed in their duties as real estate agents.

Bohrer and Bruning have appealed to the Douglas County District Court.

KENNEDY, JOHNSON BATTLE SHAPING UP

Loveless of Iowa, George Docking of Kansas, Robert Meyner of New Jersey — was moving off a dead center stance.

Neither was Gov. David L. Lawrence of the big officially uncommitted Pennsylvania delegation.

Johnson was the last candidate out of the starting gate and the first on the convention scene. Kennedy, Symington and Stevenson are coming in Saturday.

And once Truman, the party's peppy elder statesman, reaches Los Angeles, nobody will be surprised if he and people such as Symington and Johnson huddle in some rendezvous for highly important consultations.

Even with only one presidential entry on the spot, Friday was a big day around the convention battle ground.

Propaganda peddlers were scurrying everywhere, touting this man or that. Gorgeous brunettes and dazzling blondes in dark glasses were handing out buckets of campaign buttons for Democratic rivals. More sweet young things were giving away soft drinks and badges imploring everybody to relax. Disneyland offered campaign buttons, too, for Mickey Mouse, Goofy and Tinkerbell.

Would-be soul savers on soap boxes whipped themselves into a froth of acrobatic oratory outside convention headquarters at the Biltmore Hotel.

Pickpockets made the rounds of ever-growing crowds of delegates and convention hangers-on, with a modicum of success.

soning, judgment, experience and ability to bring divergent men together and put "some coonskins on the wall."

"The vice presidency," he said, "is a good place for a young man who needs experience."

To a question on his civil rights views, Johnson said he favors "constant, determined, dedicated effort to protect every person's rights." He said he has support from Negroes in both the North and South.

Johnson dismissed as untrue reports that campaign managers for himself and Symington have been trying to get together on strategy.

Host Gov. Brown of California trailed Johnson into town still silent on when he will release his 81-vote favorite son delegation and to whom he will try to assign it. He said he would reveal all at a California caucus Sunday afternoon.

Brown has been under heavy pressure — from Kennedy advocates on the one hand to hop on the bandwagon pronto and from Kennedy foes on the other to hold off and at least go through the first ballot as a favorite son.

The latter course was urged on Brown by the delegation chairman, Sen. Claire Engle. There has been nothing to change the appearance that Brown personally has been leaning toward Kennedy, but his delegation is fractured, with a fairly strong element favoring Stevenson.

Political arm twisting also has been applied to Gov. Lawrence as head of the Pennsylvania delegation — also with 81 votes and also split. But Lawrence also was sitting tight, although rumors were circulating with growing vigor that he also may be inclined to wind up with Kennedy. Pennsylvania caucuses Monday.

Gov. Meyner of New Jersey took off from New York and Gov. Docking of Kansas caught a train in Kansas City and headed for Los Angeles. Neither was giving up his favorite son perch at that juncture.

The 41-vote New Jersey delegation probably will caucus Sunday, while the 21-vote Kansas delegation will count noses and preferences Monday.

Rehearing For Haines Is Denied

... In Embezzlement

The Nebraska Supreme Court Friday overruled a motion for rehearing by Robert L. Haines, former Buffalo County justice of the peace, convicted of embezzlement of public funds.

The Court in April affirmed Haines' conviction by a Buffalo County District Court jury on 6 counts of embezzlement and converting to his own use a total of $1,592 in public money — fines from persons who appeared before him.

Haines was sentenced to 3 to 6 years in the Men's Reformatory and fined $3,184.

Ask Reversal

In the request for the rehearing, Haines' attorney said one of the counts should be reversed because it was predicated upon the presumption that Haines received certain matters sent by mail and necessary proof to raise such a presumption was not offered.

The attorney said another count was invalid because Haines was entitled to keep part of the money involved.

He also contended the fine should be reduced by one-half or more, stating that Haines has paid all monies due to the state or county.

All Ministers of Lincoln
— Invite You to Church

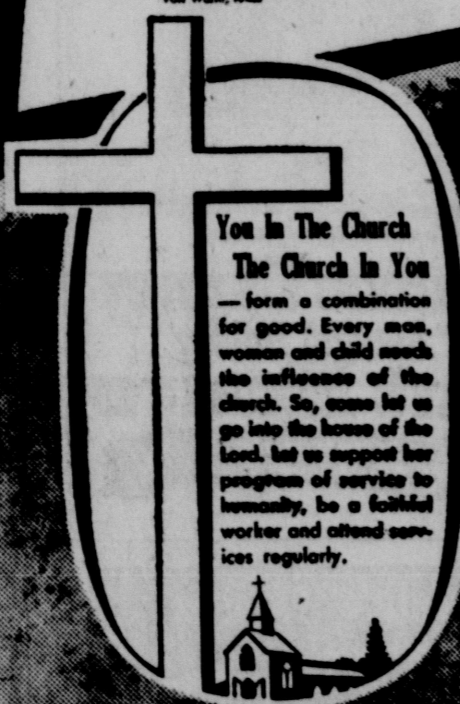

There is a Way

BUT it is not the way this man has been going. He forgot to read and heed the word of God, "Wealth maketh many friends; but the poor is separated from his neighbor." Pro. 19:4. His bank account is bulging but his troubled heart is empty. His earth is without form, and void, and darkness is upon his face. Jesus told us, "A man that hath friends must shew himself friendly: and there is a friend that sticketh closer than a brother." Pro. 18:24. It isn't by way of wealth, fame, or fortune, but by the way of God. To this man and to all of us He is constantly repeating the most glorious invitation of the centuries...

"Take My Hand."

The strong hand of a warm friend pressed upon his shoulder will help but what this man needs is to seek the counsel of a minister and join up with the forces that work for a better world through Him.

You In The Church
The Church in You — form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord, let us support her program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker and attend services regularly.

THE CHURCHES AND SYNAGOGUES OF THIS COMMUNITY ARE THE ONLY INSTITUTIONS WHICH HAVE AS THEIR MAIN FUNCTION THE TRANSFORMING OF HUMAN LIVES. THEY ARE THE SIGN BOARDS POINTING THE WAY TO GOD.

Sponsors of these messages urge faithful church support. Through these pages the appeal is for men to stand up and be counted . . . to combat communism on all fronts . . . to be faithful to God.

OUR PASTORS AND RABBIS ARE GOD'S SERVANTS WHO CALL THE SIGNALS AGAINST THE ORGANIZED FORCES OF EVIL. THEY INVITE YOU TO ENLIST ON THE SIDE FOR GOD . . . TO ATTEND CHURCH OR SYNAGOGUE.

We Need GREATER CHURCHES and a GREATER FAITH

Marilyn Ebel, Bride

MRS. BERNARR L. STADIUS

Cathedral candles, in branched candelabra, and a profusion of pink peonies formed an attractive background for the wedding of Miss Marilyn Elouise Ebel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. James Ebel, and Bernarr L. Stadius of Washington, D.C., son of Mrs. Otto Stadius of Klamath Falls, Ore., and the late Rev. Stadius, which took place on Friday afternoon, July 8, at the Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church. The 4:30 o'clock ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. Stanley C. Rogge, and William Gilbert played the wedding music. Miss Mary Dee Patterson was the vocal soloist.

Miss Marjorie Ebel, was her sister's maid of honor, and Miss Deborah Blair of Pittsburgh, Pa., was bridesmaid.

Paul Stadius of Thermopolis, Wyo., served his brother as best man, and seating the guests were James Ebel, brother of the bride; her uncle, Marvin Ebel of Madison, Wis., and Dr. Lloyd O'Neil of Aurora, Ill.

KIMBALLCREST

The welcome mat is out this morning for Mr. and Mrs. Lee Stull and their son, Samuel. The Stull family, who formerly resided at 6200 Summer in Park Manor, moved into their home at 1655 Sunburst Lane late last month.

PATRICIAN HEIGHTS

Celebrating her 11th birthday anniversary at two parties was Kayleen Priess, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Priess. Kayleen's birthday was Sunday, June 26, but the festivities were Monday. In the afternoon her guests for an informal get-together and refreshments at her home were Shirley Jester, Cindy Hovey, Patty Bouman, and Sandra Hansel.

The second celebration was in the evening when her dinner guests were Ralph Bouman and his children, Patty and Mike.

Understand that new residents in Patrician Heights are Mr. and Mrs. Vern Hansen and their children, Char-day, July 31.

Pre-Nuptial Courtesy

In prenuptial courtesy to a bride-to-be Miss Wilma Vodenahl of North Loup, and her fiancé, Bruce Isherwood, Mr. Isherwood's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Turnwall, will be host and hostess at a dinner at their home on Sunday.

The guest list which is composed of members of the family will include Mrs. Norma Searles and her children, Mrs. Ella Mae Hill, Mrs. J. W. Isherwood, Mr. and Mrs. Don A. Isherwood, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Booth and their family, Donald V. Isherwood and his children. Coming from their home in North Loup will be the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Vodenahl.

The wedding of Miss Vodenahl and Mr. Isherwood will be solemnized on Sunday, July 31.

mine, who is six years old; three year old Diane; Linda, who is 17 months old, and month-old Eric. They moved from 3011 Walnut Ct. the latter part of June and the new address is 5142 Wilshire Blvd.

Heard from the stork that a new young resident has arrived in Patrician Heights. She is Theresa Marie Makovicka, daughter and first child of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Makovicka. Theresa arrived on Thursday, June 16, at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

The young lady's proud grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Anton Makovicka and Mr. and Mrs. James Dobrusky.

PARK MANOR

A look at our birthday book tells us that Sandy Beach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Beach, is celebrating her fifth birthday today. Several of her young friends are coming to the Beach home for lunch and then the group will go to Antelope Zoo to see the animals.

Joining in the festivities will be Ann Melville, Ricky Delip, Billy Miller, Darrell Hunter, Michael Lawrie, Donny Tangeman, and of course Toby Beach.

Neighbors are happy to welcome Mr. and Mrs. Bill C. Krumel and their daughter, Nancy, to Park Manor. Formerly of Fremont, the Krumels moved into their home at 1910 Riviera Dr. recently.

And there is another new addition to the talcum powder set — little Miss Ann Elizabeth Holley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Holley. Mrs. Holley will be remembered as the former Beverly Soderberg, Kappa Alpha Theta at the University of Nebraska.

The maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Soderberg, returned to their home in Fremont recently after spending some time in Lincoln with their new granddaughter. And her paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Holley of Sacramento, Calif., will be arriving in Lincoln sometime in August.

Heard about a new family living at 1930 E. Manor Dr. since the last of June. Moving from 1943 Sewell were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Gottula and their children, four year-old Jeffrey and Lori who is two years old.

In the next block on E. Manor Dr. we find that M. Sgt. and Mrs. Arthur Bresette and their children, Robert, Edward, and Diane, have moved from 2029 E. Manor Dr. to a new home at 1943 Sewell.

CASINO HEIGHTS

Newcomers to Lincoln and to Casino Heights are Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Sandor and their four year-old daughter, Anna. Formerly of Waterloo, Ia., the Sandors moved to 5501 M St. early this month.

Sister Brides Elect Honored

Entertaining in prenuptial courtesy to Miss Barbara Fitzpatrick and Miss Mimi Fitzpatrick on Friday morning were Mrs. Cecil Walker and Miss Pat Menke when they were hostesses at a brunch at the Lincoln Country Club. During the informal hours following the brunch the August brides-elect were presented with a miscellaneous shower.

Miss Barbara Fitzpatrick will become the bride of Lt. Gregg Eklund on Saturday, August 6, and her sister Miss Mimi Fitzpatrick, will wed.

DEAR ABBY

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have a pen pal in Holland. We have been writing to each other for three years. I enjoyed learning about his way of life and his country and he mine.

I am engaged to a man who doesn't approve of my having this pen pal after we are married. He doesn't give any reason except that he just doesn't want me writing to another man.

I think his objections are silly because I have never met this pen pal and probably never will.

Should I do as my future husband says and give up my pen pal or should I refuse?

PEN PAL

DEAR PEN PAL: Whether your future husband is "silly" in his objections is beside the point. Good marriages are made of little sacrifices for the sake of harmony. So give up this pen pal in Holland if it will get you in Dutch.

DEAR ABBY: For 17 years I have lived with this terrible secret. My mother died when I was born and I was carted around from relative to relative. Nobody wanted me. Nobody loved me. When I grew to womanhood I gave myself to many men. I mistook their desire for love. Finally I met a good man who really loved me. I never told him about my past. He married me and gave me a good name. We had four children. Our first baby was born terribly deformed. I knew it was God's way of punishing me for my past sins. Should I confess to my wonderful husband, who treats me like a queen, that I know the reason for our crippled child?

TORMENTED WIFE

DEAR WIFE: God does not "punish" mothers by sending them imperfect children. Sainly mothers frequently bear "deformed" babies, and many perfect babies are born of wicked mothers. Continue to live right, forget the past and direct your confessions to the Lord.

CONFIDENTIAL TO LUKE WARM: You can BUY a dishwasher, if that's all you want. Why MARRY one?

No Dull Moments In Service Circles

BY SYBIL WEBBER
Summer seems to have hit Lincoln at last . . . the old swimmin' hole is doing a thriving business . . . young and old alike are being swept up in the water skiing craze and you can see them skimming over the water at Bowlin Lake with such joie de vivre you can hardly believe your eyes. That is, all except your friend, here. I'm magnificent with the land instruction. And when I get in the water I don't forget a thing. Of course, I don't get up either!
... enough of this sports reporting, after all, this is a social column! Heard the Richard McAuliffes hosted a dinner party last Saturday night. Actually, we know they had one because we were there and had a blast! It was in farewell to the L. A. Webbers (they're rather closely related to us).

... and, Lt. Col. and Mrs. Phil Christie entertained on Tuesday evening with dinner for the Jasper Godwins, prior to their departure.
... a Mexican supper. July 1, bid farewell (just for a few weeks) to Major Don Greene. It was hosted by his wife Mona, and by Roberta Dorothy. The guest of honor has departed, TDY, to Chanute Field, Ill.

... Capt. and Mrs. William Boede have been a couple of busy people. They no sooner greeted Capt. Boede's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Boede, from Blue Island, Ill., than the foursome took off for Arizona and Mexico. Returning just before the 4th, the group celebrated the holiday with Mrs. Boede's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Rogers, from Fremont.
... Lt. Col. and Mrs. Robert Murphy have been busy with house guests, too. Arriving for the 4th of July were Elaine's brother and sister-in-law and their family, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Jolly from Blountsville, Ala., and a sister, Mrs. Fred Layne, from Warrior, Ala.

... hear the Thomas Fouts have returned from Montecello, Ark.
... and Jack and Phyllis Tarbill are back from Colorado Springs where they attended a world-wide convention of the Institute of Navigation. And "they" is just what we mean! Phyllis did actually attend, but confessed that she gave up on the third day. Those Navigators were just a little beyond Phyl, so she's decided to stick to swimming.

... and now, dear friends, the time for goodbyes has come and with this issue I bid adieu to Service Circles and to Lincoln. Our successor, Dorothy Veiluva, will be penning this column next week, bringing you all the news and blues from Air Base Suburbia.
On Monday morning, Lt. Col. Webber and his brood will be heading down the highway en route to Maxwell Field, Ala., on PCS orders to attend War College. Son Don will return to Lincoln, however, early in September to enter good old Nebraska U, so I rather suspect he'll be visited on occasion, by his relatives from the south. And, of course, we've subscribed to the morning STAR so we can keep current on everything that's going on ... in our Service Circles!

Opti-Mrs. Officers Installed

At a joint installation dinner on Friday evening, new officers of the Lincoln Opti-Mrs. Club and the Sunrise Opti-Mrs. Club formally assumed their duties for the coming year.
Officers of the two clubs

With a membership composed of the wives of Optimist Club members, the women's organizations meet monthly from October through May and devote club funds to various needs of the community.

The Sunrise Opti-Mrs., through its executive council which includes Mrs. Donald Nelson, past president, has assisted needy families in northeast Lincoln and annually entertains for the girls at Whitehall, each of whom receives a personal gift from the club.

The Lincoln Opti-Mrs. Club finances a nursing scholarship and in the past has given assistance to LARC School as well as other service projects in town.

Executive Council members include the officers and past presidents, Mrs. Frederick Wagener, Mrs. Cy J. Borland and Mrs. Paul Haberman.

Committee chairmen include: social service, Mrs. Harold J. Way, Mrs. Marion Hays, Mrs. Harry Spahn; ways and means, Mrs. Al Brady, Mrs. Fred Wolf; chaplain, Mrs. D. E. Meyer; courtesy, Mrs. Charles Sharrick; calling, Mrs. Clarence Franz, Mrs. Earl Helmstadter, Mrs. A. G. Amos; historian, Mrs. Roy H. Opening lead — queen of spades.

Safety plays are a law unto themselves. Their form is so varied that no textbook ever has been, or will be, devised to take full care of this extraordinarily large family. The best way to learn to deal with safety plays is not to try to memorize them, but rather to try to understand how and why and when they are used.

Examine the club holding in this hand. Declarer sees that there is no difficulty making three notrump if he finds the adverse clubs divided 3-2. He can simply give up a club in such case and make nine tricks, consisting of four clubs, two spades, a heart and two diamonds.

This being the case, declarer turns his attention to the possibility that the clubs are divided 4-1. It is this approach to a hand that is associated with the safety play. Declarer does not assume a normal break but an abnormal one, and then puts his mind to work to cater not only to the expected division but also the unexpected division.

He sees that if East has four clubs, regardless of what their composition, the contract cannot be made by any means of play. Such a case he dismisses from further consideration because there is nothing he can do about it.

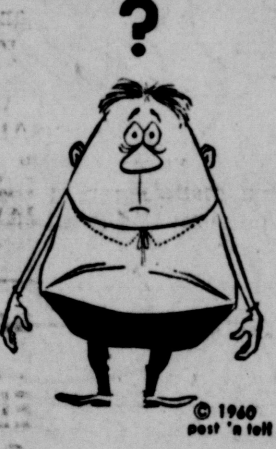

He then assumes that West has the four clubs. This may occur with East having the singleton Q, J, 9, 8, or 5. Where East has the Q, J, or 5, again the contract is doomed. West has two sure club tricks and nothing can be done about it.

So South concentrates on those 4-1 breaks which he can control so that he loses only one club trick. These consist of hands in which East has the singleton 9 or 8.

Accordingly, after winning the spade lead with the ace, he plays the ten of clubs. This turns out to be the winning play in the actual hand. West covers with the jack. Dummy's king wins and a low club is returned to the seven.

West is kaput. He cannot defeat the contract.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day in a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you. DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE Here's How To Work It

One letter simply stands for another. In this example, A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Snead's Skip Riles British Golf Press

By Oscar Fraley

St. Andrews, Scotland (UPI) — The most discussed man in the 100th anniversary of the British Open Golf Championship was the man who did not come to dinner, slamming Sammy Snead.

Snead snubbed the Centenary Open at the Royal and Ancient, flying back from the Canada Cup in Dublin a week ago to keep "prior commitments" in the United States.

It raised a storm of criticism of him as "golfing ingrate" who failed to refund a sentimental little to the game which has given him so much.

But his fellow pros have sprung to his defense with astonishing unanimity.

The public prints have been merciless in their scorn for Snead's "avarice." Slammin' Sam is noted, and rightfully so, because of his extreme fondness for presidential portraits printed on Treasury Department stationery. He allowed publicly that his decision was entirely pecuniary, and he was heading for the best spot to fill tomato cans.

In all fairness, it must be admitted that newspapers in Britain were only reporting and elaborating on the frothing words about Slambo being hurled about in the stuffy inner sanctum at St. Andrews.

They feel, in Britain, that as the 1946 winner he should have returned to St. Andrews — where he won the title — on a par-busting pilgrimage to pay homage to the game and his position in it. Reaction was, as Henry Cotton put it, "quite scurrilous."

Cotton, little Gene Sarazen, Arnold Palmer, Chandler Harper, and Stan Dudas, all held — singly — that "it seems to be Sam's business, and nobody else's."

"One fellow wrote an absolutely scurrilous story," said Cotton.

"I think the story is actionable in the British courts under our libel laws and I'm going to send it to Sam for action if he wants to do something about it. I'm for Sam. What he does or doesn't do is entirely his own business."

Asserted the voluble Sarazen: "The British feel hurt, but what about Bobby Locke? He's in London, he won it 4 times, and he didn't bother coming up. Why don't they make some noise about him?"

Locke, too, played in the Canada Cup at Dublin and, like Sam, passed up the former champions dinner, which preceded the Open.

"They've got their nerve expecting him to stay an extra week just to attend their dinner," said Harper, former P. G. A. champion. "There are always people who want you to spend your own money doing them favors."

"It would have to be a better dinner than any I've seen around here to keep me an extra week," Dudas added.

St. Andrews, a grim, grey town, lashed by winds off the North Sea, may be the fabled home of golf, but the pros make no secret of the fact that they feel it lacks many of the niceties connected with the "gentleman's game."

Sam, it seems, has won another . . .

Chisox In Third Win Over Foe

Chicago (AP) — Fourth-place Chicago's White Sox made it 3 in a row over Cleveland's slumping Indians with a 4-1 decision Friday night.

Chicago meanwhile inched within a half game of Baltimore, 1½ games of Cleveland and 4½ games of league leading New York.

A crowd of 48,031 saw southpaw Frank Baumann ride out a troublesome second inning while recording his 5th triumph against 4 losses.

Baumann restricted the tribe to 6 hits, walked two and struck out none.

The Sox backed Baumann with an 8-hit attack and took advantage of some sloppy Cleveland play.

They scored twice in the first, once in the second and added an unearned run in the 6th as starter Gary Bell absorbed his 7th defeat.

Luis Aparicio opened the first inning with a double to left after which Nellie Fox beat out a bunt and Aparicio came all the way home when 3rd baseman Ken Aspromonte threw wildly to first.

Minnie Minoso forced Fox, but Roy Sievers singled and Sherm Lollar lofted a sacrifice fly for the second run.

Monmouth Jockey To Face Big Suit

Freehold, N.J. (AP)—Jockey Sammy Boulmetis has been sued for $300,000 by another rider.

George Gross of West Grove Pa. filed the superior court suit accusing Boulmetis of reckless riding in the 5th race at Monmouth Park.

Gross was riding Lady Glade at the time and claims Boulmetis, aboard Price Chasmir, rammed into him.

Johansson Drops To Fourth Among Heavyweight Hopes

New York (AP) — Floyd Patterson won the Ring Magazine's "Fighter of the Month" award as well as the world heavyweight championship when he knocked out Ingemar Johansson at the Polo Grounds June 20. Johansson was dropped to 4th place among the challengers in the magazine's monthly ratings.

Inasmuch as Patterson is the first heavyweight to regain the title his choice was a matter of course. The dropping of the dethroned Swede to No. 4 was a surprise, however. He is placed behind Sonny Liston, Zora Folley and Eddie Machen.

Paul Pender still is listed as middleweight champion, with Gene Fullmer, recognized by the NBA as titleholder, the No. 1 challenger. Pender, twice victor over Sugar Ray Robinson, is recognized by New York, Massachusetts and the European Boxing Federation.

Don Jordan, who was dethroned as welterweight champion by Benny Paret, dropped to 3rd place among the challengers in that division behind Luis Rodriguez and Frederico Thompson.

Ricardo Gonzales was dropped from No. 1 challenger to No. 3 among the featherweights as a result of his defeat by Felix Cervantes, No. 10 on the list.

A familiar name bobbed up in the light heavyweight listing. Carl (Bobo) Olson, once middleweight champion, took over the No. 7 spot in the heavier class as a result of his upset victory over Mike Holt of South Africa. Holt dropped from No. 3 to No. 6, and Willie Pastrano of Miami went from No. 8 to No. 4.

International's Second Entry Is Irish Nag

Laurel, Md. (AP) — Chamour, champion 3-year-old of Ireland and winner of the Irish Derby, will represent that country in the 9th running of the $100,000 Washington, D.C. International Nov. 11.

The track said it had been notified by Laurel president John Schapiro from Dublin of the entry, second for the event.

Bally Ache, leading 3-year-old in America, was the first entry.

Schapiro said Walter Burmann, owner of Chamour, had accepted the invitation.

The last Irish entry in the International, Ballmoss, finished 3rd in 1958.

Main Scores Ace In Canadian Open

Toronto (AP)—Mac Main of Danville, Va., shot a hole-in-one on the 140-yard par 3 sixth hole in the 3rd round of the Canadian Open golf championship Friday. He used an 8 iron.

It was the second ace of Main's career. He got his first at Danville in 1959 using an 8-iron.

He Learns While He Earns

LET JOE
TELL IT HIMSELF!

Joe's father and mother can remember when, because of his shyness, they would have to come to his rescue during a conversation with strangers and say: "What Joe means is this—." But no longer. Today, Joe can speak for himself—and does. Not that he is loud or talks too much. Always polite and tactful, he knows when to speak up—and what he says is usually worth hearing. In fact, his debating team hasn't lost a match all year.

A change in Joe was apparent within a month after he became a newspaperboy. "Since you will need to know how to talk with people the rest of your life, no matter what type of work you do, I think it is important that you begin learning," Joe's father told him. "And one of the finest ways to learn is to have your own newspaper route business." Joe knows now that this was good advice. And he can see how proud his father is every time he says: "Let Joe tell it himself!"

Over-all Stock Gains Slight

New York (U) — The stock market Friday carried through its rally into the second straight session but showed little enthusiasm.

Volume was 3,010,000 shares compared with 3,050,000 Thursday, both figures being well below average for 1960.

The over-all gain was slight. The burden was carried by steels, which showed up very well. Big Three motors, utilities, rails and building materials. Oils, rubbers, and nonferrous metals were irregularly lower. Many other sections of the list were mixed.

The market was higher at the start, widened its gains, then backed away from the best prices as typical pre-weekend profit taking held sway.

Steels were bought again, brokers said, because it was felt the worst of the steel news was now in the past and some kind of a business revival is to be expected.

The Dow Jones industrial average rose 2.62 to 646.91, its highest since the start of the year.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 30 to 223.60 with the industrial average up 20 to 109.70 and the utility up 20 to another new high for the year.

It was another broad market, with 1,254 issues traded but gains cut down by only 581 to 413, new highs for the year totaled 59 and new lows 20.

American Stock Exchange prices were mixed. Volume was 1,450,000 shares compared with 1,400,000 Thursday.

Corporate bonds were slightly higher. Dealings were light. U. S. governments declined in slow trading.

Volume declined to $4,560,000 par value of the New York Stock Exchange from $5,150,000 Thursday.

BUTCHER HOG PRICES UP 25c

Omaha (U) — Light butcher hogs advanced 25c here Friday with most of these weights selling to order buyers. Some sales looked 50 higher. Weights over 240 pounds held about steady.

Sows were steady.

The fat cattle supply was too small to test prices.

The small fresh supply of sheep and lambs was held for next Monday's market.

Bus Driver Nabbed For $290,000 Haul From Concrete Safe

Charleston, W.Va. (AP) — A mild-mannered, unemployed bus driver was arrested Friday and charged with the biggest cash theft in West Virginia history — the $290,000 haul from a massive concrete vault at the State Motor Vehicles Department.

Earl Hayes Mathews, 32, broke into tears when state police found the money in the trunk of his car.

But later, talking with reporters, he was relaxed, almost jovial.

"I knew I could never get away with it," he said matter-of-factly at a news conference. "There was too much money."

"I feel good now. It's all over."

"I did it all by myself. Nobody was there. Anybody could have done it."

'Didn't Look Type' Mathews is a slim, 150-pound man with blue eyes and light brown hair. He appeared hardly the type to

Judd Treated For Accident Bruises

Edna D. Judd of 5640 Walker was treated for bruises at a local hospital and released after she was injured Friday morning in a car-pedestrian accident at 17th and P.

Police said the 61-year-old woman was in collision with a car driven by Carl C. Engel, 74, of 5102 Prescott, as Engel was making a left turn from 17th onto P St.

pound his way through a foot or so of concrete that housed the vault.

Police still had not counted the loot found in Mathews' car. But he said it was all there, adding "I never touched it."

The department, on the first floor of a state office building across the street from the state capitol, was broken into the night of June 19-20.

A pick and sledgehammer were used to enlarge a small ventilator opening and enter the vault through the ceiling. The vault was crammed with receipts from auto license plate sales for the new license year which began July 1.

Only Solid Clues The pick and the sledgehammer, left in the vault, were the only solid clues in the theft. The pick eventually put police on Mathews' trail.

It was traced to Marmet and the investigation thereafter was concentrated there. Then police learned that Mathews, although long out of work, gave $75 to his mother and wife shortly after the robbery.

Mathews said only that he had been in poor health and hadn't worked for a year.

"It was my first and last crime," he said.

But a few hours later Mathews admitted about 10 other break-ins in this area since the first of the year. The largest was a $3,000 theft from an auto agency at near-by Chelyan. Police records show no prior arrests for Mathews.

Sanitary Board Names De Vries

... FULL-TIME ENGINEER

The Sanitary District No. 1 board of trustees appointed Richard N. DeVries as its new full-time engineer and terminated two other engineering posts at a special closed-door meeting Friday.

DeVries, 28, a 1958 University of Nebraska engineering graduate, will begin his duties July 15 at an annual salary of $7,500.

De Vries, now employed in Omaha, was recommended for the post by Ralph R. Marlette, who has served as district engineer on a consulting basis since 1954.

Marlette, associate professor of engineering at the University, is taking a year's leave of absence to study on a hydraulic engineering fellowship at Technological University at Delft, Netherlands. He leaves Aug. 15.

Terminates The District's trustees terminated the employment of Office Engineer Thomas C. Kelsey and Field Engineer Maurice R. Snively.

Max Harding, spokesman for the board, said this action was taken because 3 engineers are no longer needed by the District.

He said that Kelsey, who has been with the district for 19 years, and Snively, for 15 years, would be employed on consulting basis if they are interested and sufficient work is available.

Harding said Marlette wasn't interested in continuing as district engineer upon his return from Europe because of his University schedule.

DeVries, who had worked for both the City of Lincoln and District while in engineering school, will be available to the Salt-Wahoo Watershed District on a consulting basis while employed by the Sanitary District.

2 Lincoln Coeds Attending 31st Prep Institute

Two Lincoln high school coeds are among 10 Nebraska seniors attending the 31st annual National High School Institute on the Northwestern University campus in Evanston, Ill.

The students, both from Southeast High School, are Susan J. Ayres of 2647 Winthrop Rd. and Joan M. Probasco of 1940 Dakota.

The Institute offers instructions in 4 divisions—mathematics and science, journalism (in which both Susan and Joan are enrolled), speech and fine arts.

Over 400 students representing every state in the union are enrolled in the 5-week Institute.

To be eligible, students must rank in the upper quarter of their class and must be recommended by 3 school officials.

Other Nebraskans at the Institute:

Elaine Anderson of Gothenburg, speech; Ronald L. Mierau of Henderson, math and science; Stanley K. Bowker and Susan Ann Nye of Kearney, journalism; Bond Pike, Richard Friedman and Keith Liberman of Omaha, journalism; and Jeff Pomerantz of Omaha, speech.
